

Section: Erosion and Deposition by Ice

Fourteen thousand years ago, much of North America was covered in a thick layer of ice called a continental glacier, which moved as far as southern Illinois. Humans were living in North America at the time. Write a paragraph about being an early human and discovering this glacier.

Write your paragraph in your science journal.

Section: The Effect of Gravity on Erosion and Deposition

“Watch for falling rocks!” Where would a warning sign like this be necessary? Have you ever seen one of these signs on a highway or trail? What factors contribute to making a rock-fall zone?

Write your answers in your science journal.
